

Dear Max Mustermann,

We are still on tenterhooks because of the war in Ukraine. The economic consequences do not only affect us in Europe, but especially the populations south of the globe. We continue to hear reports from Burkina Faso about the rising cost of food and an increasing scarcity of basic nutrition. Added to this, terrorist activity is growing in the north of the country, resulting in many more people being forced to flee to the capital, Ouagadougou. The AMPO projects are faced with all of these challenges. Nevertheless we are united in our endeavour to make the best of the situation.

Your AMPO Team

A hive of activity for AMPO!

There was a lot going on at AMPO in May and there is much more in store in June! The active support of all those AMPO supporters is something to celebrate. This weekend, for instance, the Bro Cross Bigband is performing in Pfingstberg at Hof Schlossblick, at an AMPO benefit concert. The band is made up of two brothers each with their families of three and

Our monthly diary

This month we focus on two strong women. Thanks to their microcredits they have set up income-generating activities through which they can feed the whole family. The MIA/ALMA women have also been very active. More than 200 lemongrass plants have been planted in the garden and we can't wait for the harvest.

In spite of all the terrible news, everyday life goes on in the AMPO projects, happiness and laughter prevail. The girls from the orphanage observed the fast together and the boys carried on developing their circus skills. Top performer however was Jacques, the welder from the wheelchair workshop.

Revue of previous events

On Saturday 21st May Berolina organised a "fleamarket for a good cause". The bad weather forecast did not deter us and it was all in all a huge success for AMPO! Katrin Rohde gave a talk on the AMPO projects. This was followed by a lively Q & A session and an interesting discussion.

We organised an online event with the Development Aid organisation on 20th May. Katrin Rohde and Dr. Lena Katharina Müller spoke about the cooperation between our two organisations and how that came about. Topics such as the challenges facing development work in Ouagadougou were also on the agenda, as well as the successes on a more positive note. Would you like to catch up on the event?
